

CLEGG BACKS SHOP SPIRIT

Deputy PM praises the community and pledges further support for riot clean-up

THE deputy prime minister made his second visit to Tottenham last week to see for himself how the area is recovering after last month's rioting.

Nick Clegg met with several people who he first saw immediately after the troubles which left homes burned down and the High Road resembling a war zone. He said he had been impressed by the community spirit in Tottenham on his first visit three weeks ago and wanted to find out what more could be done to help.

He said: "Three weeks ago, Tottenham witnessed the worst violence on its streets for many years. In the aftermath, I met residents and shopkeepers to see the damage for myself and hear about what they had been through. Even then I was impressed by the strength of the community and the commitment to repair what had been destroyed."

"The community in Tottenham – like others across the country – has come together to get the recovery process going. The government is doing all it can to make sure people are supported and money is provided quickly – but I need to hear whether this is making a difference."

"For residents who lost their homes, many do not yet have a permanent place to live. I want to talk to them about their experiences, about what is being done to help and support them."

Haringey Liberal Democrat leader Richard Wilson had written to Nick Clegg to ask for support from the government specifically for businesses with cashflow problems; for help to find a swift outcome to the search for a new site for the area's post office; and for assistance for businesses and residents who have yet to have phone lines restored.

Mr Wilson said: "Nick Clegg's second visit to see how Tottenham is recovering after the riots

Return visit: Nick Clegg came back to speak to residents and shopkeepers affected by the rioting

Devastation: Rioters set buildings ablaze is very welcome and shows that the government is committed to helping to rebuild the area and help the community get back on its feet.

"We continue to ask the government for specific help for residents and businesses who are still finding it hard to recover. It is vital that we get the post office up and running as soon as possible and phone lines restored."

Students defy the pessimists with a haul of GCSE results

EVEN pouring rain could not dampen the spirits of Haringey's GCSE students as they exceeded all expectations.

The borough's schools significantly outperformed their predicted estimates of pupils achieving five A*-C grades

Celebrating success: Lorna Reith meets students collecting their results at Park View School including maths and English. Highgate Wood, St Thomas More RC and Gladesmore in particular saw the number of pupils in this category rise by more than 20 per cent

At St Thomas More RC in Wood Green, where the percentage of pupils achieving five A*-C grades including maths and English has jumped up to 54 per cent from 31 per cent last year, students were busy talking with teachers about staying on to study A-levels.

Michael Hart, 16, got an A in maths, two As in ICT, a B in a further ICT subject, a B in English literature, a B in English language, a C in science and a D in RE.

He said: "I'm going to frame this. I'm definitely going to stay in education and do my A-levels but I'm not sure about going to university yet."

"This school is improving: the new buildings are nice and the teachers want you to do well. It makes you work harder and want to do well."

Lorna Reith, deputy leader of Haringey Council and cabinet member for children, said: "What delights me most is that the achievements of Haringey students goes totally against what a lot of people outside of the borough have recently thought about young people from Tottenham. These young people have done themselves, their schools and their local area proud."

Also performing well are students at Park View School in Tottenham. Alex Atherton, who has been headteacher for five years, said: "These latest results are brilliant and I'm so pleased for the students. We have hugely committed staff and highly aspirational and motivated students."

Martin Edwards, also from Park View, achieved nine A*s in total. Martin now plans to go to Woodhouse College and wants to study biochemistry and maths. He said: "Getting so many A*s was a surprise. I worked hard, but it's definitely all been worth it."

In the wake of the Tottenham riot, Haringey's police chief writes to emphasise the force's commitment to engaging with the community

We can move on from this as one

Dear Haringey community member,

We have been working tirelessly with our partner agencies and local community groups in order to understand how we move forward following the unprecedented scenes of disorder experienced in Tottenham and across London.

The widespread looting and deliberate damage caused to businesses and homes was the worst seen for many years, and the fact that people have lost their homes, possessions and livelihoods is a great sadness to us.

We were aware of the community's concerns following the shooting of Mark Duggan and were taking advice from community representatives; however, we had no indication to suggest that Haringey would be subject to such extreme violence.

We have continued to engage with the wider community while the Independent Police Complaints Commission carries out an investigation into the shooting of Mr Duggan and supports his family.

These have been some of the most difficult and challenging times for our officers, who have been incredibly brave. Our determination to support and protect the community has not wavered. Your dedicated local Safer Neighbourhood team officers continue to patrol the streets of Haringey and to offer reassurance and support to those affected by the distressing events.

Thank you for the overwhelming messages of support that have helped the morale of our officers and backroom staff.

Over the next month we are attending a series of listening events so we may understand not only the impact of these terrible events, but also how we move forward as one community.

We recognise that the vast majority of the community abhors the disorder that took place and have a deep regard for the area in which they live. We share with you those feelings and a determination to return Haringey to normal.

The operation to trace those responsible for the damage to our community and put them before the courts continues.

If you have any information, or recognise any of the people in the photographs we have published at www.met.police.uk/disordersuspects, call the Operation Withern major investigation team on 020 8345 4142 or call Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Yours faithfully,

Sandra Looby

Haringey borough commander

Firms can apply to riot repair fund

BUSINESSES directly affected by the recent disturbances are being invited to apply for help from two funds set up in the wake of the recent riots.

Under the High Street Support Scheme, a government programme administered by Haringey Council, eligible businesses can apply for grants, generally up to £2,500, to cover the cost of loss and damage to their premises.

For more information, go to the council's website - www.haringey.gov.uk/business or call 020 8489 2670.

The High Street Fund, a Mayor of London scheme, invites applications for grants averaging about £2,000 for affected businesses. Call 0800 093 5858 or visit www.thehighstreetfund.co.uk

Alan Strickland, Haringey's cabinet member for economic development, said: "It's not just business owners who suffer when a company or shop has to close, but also staff losing their livelihoods and customers losing important day-to-day services and goods."

Making a contribution

CONTRIBUTIONS can be made to the fund, set up to help people in Haringey affected by the disturbances:

By cheque - payable to: Mayor's Special Fund - Tottenham Fund. And mailed to London Borough of Haringey, PO Box 55235, London, N22 9DF.

Direct to the bank (either in branch or online) - payee: Mayor's Special Fund - Tottenham Fund.

TWO teenage boys were hospitalised during a gang fight which spilled into Highgate Magistrates' Court.

An argument between two groups of youths last Thursday morning turned violent with one gang chasing two teenagers into the court building.

A 14-year-old boy was left with head injuries and taken for treatment at St Mary's Hospital in Paddington, while the second boy, aged 15, was taken to the Whittington Hospital nearby.

A woman officer at the court was also punched during the fight, but she was treated at the scene and is back on duty.

Both teenagers were treated and later discharged from hospital, and then arrested in connection with the incident. The 14-year-old was arrested on suspicion of assaulting a police officer and affray

Gang fight inside courthouse leaves two teens injured and has been bailed until October. The 15-year-old was arrested on suspicion of affray and also bailed until October.

Detectives are still trying to trace the other group involved in the fight. They are described as black youths, all aged about 15, wearing hooded tops or beanie hats, who are believed to have run off in the direction of Archway Road.

Anyone with information is asked to contact DS Stuart Robinson of Haringey CID on 020 8345 0838 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Bendy buses removed on No73 – and the route disappears from Tottenham

BENDY buses on No 73 route have been replaced with double-deckers – but will now terminate at Stoke Newington rather than Seven Sisters.

The route will continue to serve between Stoke Newington and Victoria.

The 43 bendy buses previously on the route were removed at the weekend as part of London mayor Boris Johnson's pledge to reinstate traditional buses. Mr Johnson said: "These ginormous machines are far more suited to the wide open vista of a Scandinavian airport than London's narrow streets, and I am delighted that another bus route has seen the back of them."

However, Haringey Trades Union Council, the local wing of the TUC that covers Tottenham, has called on the mayor to reinstate the Seven Sisters extension, claiming that 1,200 commuters use the bus every day. A statement read: "The changes to the No 73 route will disrupt journeys to and from work for ordinary people in Tottenham and we are demanding that the mayor listens to significant local disquiet on the issue."

A statement from Transport for London said: "Route 73 buses have historically provided an infrequent and ad hoc extended service from Stoke Newington to Seven Sisters when buses returned to their depot. However, changes to local depot arrangements mean this service will now be withdrawn. A frequent service over this section is still available on routes 149, 243 and 476, with route 67 also serving the section between Stamford Hill and Stoke Newington."

Peeking inside our iconic architecture

ONCE again it's time to open the doors of some of the borough's more interesting buildings and take a wander around these architectural gems.

Over the course of the weekend an impressive 13 buildings in Haringey can be viewed for free as part of London's fascinating Open House event besides five walks or tours – making us one of the busiest boroughs in the capital.

Arty types should welcome the opportunity to look around the Grade II-listed Art Deco cinema, the Muswell Hill Odeon, and the Tudor Manor house which has now turned into Bruce Castle Museum, in Tottenham, while the theatre and television studios at Alexandra Palace will be open again this year.

Otherwise, lovers of antiquated buildings should take the opportunity to pop into: Highgate School Chapel & Big School, The Old Schoolhouse in Hornsey, the Markfield Beam Engine and House in Tottenham or the Grade II-listed tower and churchyard of St Mary's Hornsey.

Those of a more modern dispo-

Steeped in history: St Mary's Church is on the Open House list sition, however, will be intrigued by the modernists apartments of Highpoint and Linear House, both in Highgate, or the remodelled midterraced house at 32 Warwick Gardens near Finsbury Park.

Walks are taking place throughout Muswell Hill and Tottenham while the chance to get on your bike is being offered in a one-off cycle tour of the Lea Valley on the Saturday from 2pm. This intriguing-sounding ride promises to take in a range of architectural novelties from Victorian temples to 21st century designer shanty towns.

variety of walks on offer go to

Kye's the limit: sumptuous decor for classic cuisine

Restaurant News

Kye's Bar and Restaurant,
52 High Street, Southgate
020 8882 8593

ONCE a week, Tony Wolbrom's six-year-old son pops down to take a look at his new bar and restaurant.

With justification he trots around with a proprietorial air because the latest addition to Southgate's bustling dining out scene is, rightly, his!

"I promised to buy my little boy a pub and here it is!" explained Tony.
"And, in tribute, I named it after him."

Kye has every reason to strut around the former Woolpack watering hold. Enjoying a dramatic transformation since its former incarnation, locals will be surprised to find huge gold-framed mirrors, chandel-liers and giant, ornate ice buckets (Nick, the barman, informs us it takes three trips to the ice machine to fill up this vast dome).

But although the place looks a million dollars, the classic British cuisine being served up won't cost it.

There are generous platters to share for £13.95 (choose six items from a varied list – you won't need much more afterwards), a rich fish pie with large chunks of fish for £10.95, or supremes of chicken (with excellent plum and apple chutney and huge, golden chips) for £11.95.

Then on Sundays you can have two courses for £15 and three courses for £18. In addition, Kye can divide into two courses from the children's menu at £5.95.

"Next time you must also try our Knickerbocker Glory which is certainly not for Kye or under 18s!" said Tony. "It's quite alcoholic with strawberries soaked in strawberry liqueur and then the melon is soaked in midori liqueur. It packs quite a punch, I can tell you."

Otherwise, visitors can just pop into Kye's for a drink from its well-

DO YOU WANT TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE TO SOCIETY?

Are you 16-18 years of age and uncertain of your future?
The Level 1 and 2 Public Services pathways could be just what you are looking for...

The courses offer training suited to a career in the uniformed or non uniformed public services.

You'll get to develop personal fitness, team leadership and teamwork – all essential skills to get you started in your career. There are a range of exciting course activities such as outward-bound training, teamwork exercises, and fact-finding visits, as well as a broad range of College projects to prepare you for working in public life. Your literacy and numeracy will improve and this could be a real stepping stone to finding your future job.

There is the option to progress on to a Level 3 course to pursue a career in the uniformed or non-uniformed services or gain employment in a variety of roles including:

Uniformed Services

- Emergency services (Police, Fire, Ambulance)
- Army
- Air Force
- Navy
- The Prison Service

Non-Uniformed Services

- Teaching, Teaching Assistant
- Health worker
- Social services worker
- Doctor, Nurse, Midwife
- Probation Officer

RAFA TARGETS A RAPID RECOVERY

By Dominique Stafford

RAFAEL VAN DER VAART is hoping to defy medical advice and make a swift recovery from his hamstring injury.

The Tottenham Hotspur midfielder suffered the problem in the closing stages of last month's 5-1 defeat at the hands of Manchester City and the club have confirmed that they expect him to be sidelined for up to six weeks.

But the Dutch international believes this to be a rather pessimistic prognosis and expects to be back in action soon.

"It feels OK now," he said. "I hope to make my comeback in one or two weeks. The past has proven that I can recover quickly from such an injury."

Meanwhile, manager Harry Redknapp has backed Scott Parker to have a big impact at the club.

The reigning Football Writers Association Player of the Year joined Spurs from West Ham United on a predictably busy transfer deadline day for the club last Wednesday.

"Scott is exactly what we need," Redknapp said. "He is a good character and an excellent professional with a great attitude. He will be fantastic for us on and off the pitch."

A number of players have also made their exits from White Hart Lane, with David Bentley moving in the opposite direction to West Ham on a season-long loan deal.

Peter Crouch and Wilson Palacios signed for Stoke City for a combined fee of around £20million, while Alan Hutton and Jermaine Jenas have both joined Aston Villa – with Hutton making a £4m move and Jenas another to have gone on a season-long loan.

But wantaway midfielder Luka Modric has stayed at the club after Spurs rejected a reported £40m offer from Chelsea.

"I'm delighted Luka is still with us," Redknapp added. "The chairman stood firm and I hope he will go on to have a great season."

"We are strong in the middle of the park now. Parker has arrived, Sandro is getting fit and we also have Tom Huddlestone and Jake Livermore."

"All the players who have left are good lads. People like Crouchy and Palacios have been fantastic, but it's difficult."

"You've only got 25 players in your squad and we had 29, which is too many. We had to clear a few out. They are all good players who have gone, and will all do well."

A quick healer: Rafael van der Vaart expects to return to action soon

A crushing win seals promotion joy for Hornsey

HORNSEY secured promotion to the top flight of the Middlesex County Cricket League in fine style by romping to a ten-wicket win at Harrow Town on Saturday.

The side knew heading into their last match of the season that only victory would secure a top-two finish, and they responded by producing a superb display to crush their hapless hosts.

Anthony Murphy (5-47) shone with the ball as Harrow Town were dismissed for just 104 batting first, and Garfield Struthers (63 not out) then scored the bulk of the runs as Hornsey reached their target in less than 24 overs without losing a wicket.

Meanwhile, already relegated Highgate bowed out of Division Two on a high by winning their derby against North Middlesex to ensure they did not finish bottom of the table.

A high-scoring encounter saw Adam Holmes (85) and Darren Eckford (71) both make significant contributions as North Middlesex declared on 246-6, but Nicholas Brunner's brilliant 96 not out guided Highgate to 248-8 in reply – despite 5-95 from Eckford.

Elsewhere, North London suffered the anguish of missing out on promotion from Division Three by a single point even though they ended their season with a five-wicket win against basement side Bessborough.

A good display in the field saw Bessborough dismissed for 159, and North London encountered few problems in reaching 160-5 in reply.
